Dear Dr. Hashim:

Thank you for the Council's recent gift of $1,000 to support Professor J. ~~Thomas Parson's~~ "Cell Signalling, Cell Cycling, and Cell Death" conference to be held this fall at the University of Virginia. Your support of participation by industrial sector representatives helps ensure the success of this Department of Microbiology symposium.

While providing a critical level of financial stability, your generosity ensures that educational and health-care excellence will remain central to the missions of the University and our Health Sciences Center. Just as important, private support expands a plethora of opportunities for both students and faculty. Without it we cannot attract and retain these talented women and men.

We will work hard to merit your continued interest and support.

Sincerely,

Robert D. Sweeney
Vice President for Development
